Machine tool segment

- ✓ In China, both orders received and sales jumped much more than initially projected and helped drive earnings growth, thanks to high demand from the automotive industry where the shift to electric vehicles was accelerating and the smartphone industry where more and more sophisticated models were produced, prompted by the increasing sophistication and automation of manufacturing as well as the government's subsidy policies. Despite some transactions negatively affected by a shortage of major components stemming from a surge in demand, demand from a wide range of industries has continued to be brisk in China even after the early fall when we usually see a demand decrease in the country.
- ✓ In Japan, demand mainly from the automotive industry were strong, due partly to the manufacturing subsidy program.
- ✓ In North America, demand appeared to be somewhat losing its momentum, but started recovering towards the end of the fiscal year.
- ✓ In Europe (Germany, Italy, etc.), demand from the automotive and aerospace industries remained solid.
- ✓ In other countries and regions in Asia, demand from the automotive and semiconductor industries picked up gradually.

Industrial machinery segment

- ✓ Demand for machinery for the production of high added-value components such as connectors and sensors for automobiles and optical lenses for smartphones and vehicle mounted cameras was strong mainly in China, Asia and Japan.
- ✓ Demand for silicon molding machines used in the manufacture of water-resistant smartphones also remained solid.

Food processing machinery segment

- ✓ Capital investment demand for high-quality noodle making equipment was steady.
- ✓ Demand from industries other than the noodle making industry, such as the confectionery companies and manufacturers of packaging materials for precooked rice as well as demand for automation equipment also increased.
- ✓ As a result of the completion of acceptance inspection of a number of projects in the third quarter, net sales were almost in line with initial projection.
- ✓ Segment income did not increase as much as expected, due to one-off costs for establishing a new product.

Other segments

- ✓ Precision mold and precision molding operations as well as sale of ceramics were strong.

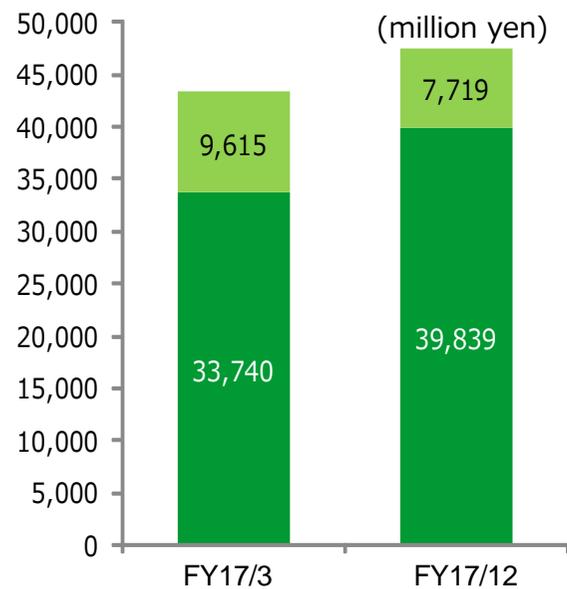

* Due to the fiscal year-end change, FY17/12 consolidated financial results comprise 9 months (from April to December 2017) of results for companies whose fiscal year ends on March 31, and 12 months (from January to December 2017) of results for those whose fiscal year ends on December 31, resulting in irregular settlement of accounts. Accordingly, changes compared to the preceding fiscal year are not provided.

Net Sales by Segment (on a Financial Report Basis) Sodick

- ✓ In Japan, while orders received in relation to the incentive program adopted in March, 2017 contributed to sales increase, those from the automotive and smartphone industries were strong.
- ✓ In North America, demand from the automotive, aerospace and medical equipment industries that had thus far been solid somewhat lost its momentum.
- ✓ In Europe, despite slackening business in some countries such as Russia and Turkey, demand from the automotive and aerospace industries, mainly in Germany, the U.K. and Italy, remained favorable.
- ✓ In Greater China, both orders received and sales remained at a high level, thanks to high demand from the automotive industry where the shift to electric vehicles was accelerating and the smartphone industry where more and more sophisticated models were produced, prompted partly by the increasing sophistication and automation of manufacturing as well as the government's subsidy policies.
- ✓ In Asia, while demand from the automotive industry picked up gradually, mainly in Thailand and Malaysia, that from the semiconductor and smartphone industries was firm in Korea.

Industrial machinery segment

- ✓ In Japan, in addition to steady demand for vertical injection molding machines for manufacturing automotive components, demand for machinery used in the production of high added-value components such as connectors and sensors for automobiles and optical lenses and connectors for smartphones was robust.
- ✓ In Greater China and Asia, demand for molding machines for the manufacture of optical lenses for smartphones and vehicle mounted cameras as well as that for silicon molding machines for the production of water-resistant smartphones were favorable.

Food processing machinery segment

- ✓ Demand came for capital investment for producing higher quality noodles.
- ✓ Demand also grew outside the noodle manufacturing industry, among confectionery companies, manufacturers of packaging materials for precooked rice, etc.
- ✓ As acceptance inspections of some projects were put off until or after the third quarter, sales were sluggish.
- ✓ Segment income decreased due to one-off costs for establishing a new product, a negative segment income was recorded.

Other segments

- ✓ Precision mold and precision molding operations as well as sale of ceramics remained strong.

III. Shareholder Return

Policies for Shareholder Returns and Dividend Projections Sodick

- ✓ As a dividend policy, we aim at a dividend yield on shareholders' equity of at least 2%.
- ✓ For FY2017/12, fiscal year-end dividend has been revised upward from initial projection by 2 yen to 12 yen per share. We are planning for an annual dividend of 22 yen per share (interim dividend of 10 yen, fiscal year-end dividend of 12 yen).
- ✓ For FY2018/12, we are planning for an annual dividend of 24 yen per share (interim dividend of 12 yen, fiscal year-end dividend of 12 yen).

IV. FY18/12 Financial Results Projections

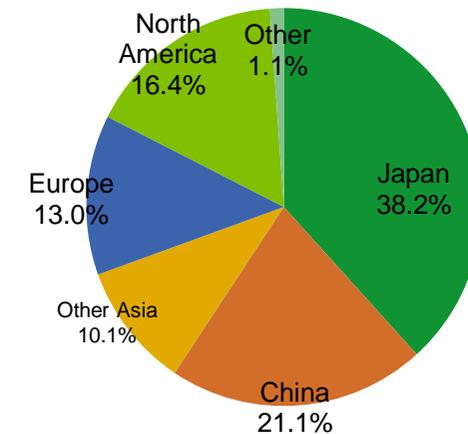

Market Environment

- ✓ Japan: We expect sustained solid demand due to the government subsidy programs and replacement demand due to facility aging.
- ✓ North America: Bolstered by the corporate tax cuts, capital investment demand is expected to increase mainly in the automotive, aerospace and medical equipment industries.
- ✓ Europe: There is uncertainty about the future because of the Brexit issue and slower growth in demand in countries such as Russia and Turkey, but demand in the automotive and aerospace industries is expected to remain firm.
- ✓ China: Demand for high precision machinery is forecast to continue increasing, spurred by growing needs for automation on the back of the sophistication of manufacturing and a surge in personnel expenses.
- ✓ Asia: Demand mainly from the auto-related industries is expected to continue to be picking up in Thailand and Malaysia, etc. while that from the smartphone and semiconductor industries is likely to remain brisk in Korea.

Reinforcement of Business Bases (1)

Reinforcement of Business Bases (2)

Production base

- ✓ Kaga Plant (Japan) : Construction of multi-factory and new logistics center
⇒Construct a multi-factory capable of manufacturing a wide variety of products including EDMs, machining centers, metal 3D printers and injection molding machines, in order to establish manufacturing systems which will flexibly respond to changes in the business environment and markets.
Relocate the logistics center in Fukui to the Kaga Plant site, thereby raising the packaging and transport efficiency and promoting cost savings.
- ✓ Thailand: Expansion of the 2nd factory
⇒Expand the 2nd building of the 2nd factory, thereby increasing production capacity by around 20% and establishing production systems which will respond to larger orders received.

Sales base

- ✓ Sodick, Inc. (US) : Construction of new company building
⇒Build a larger showroom for showcasing precision metal 3D printers and EDMs (double the size of the previous office) and strengthen sales systems in North America, the world largest market for molds and aerospace-related products.
- ✓ Sodick Europe Ltd. (UK) : Construction of new company building
⇒Build a larger product warehouse and a larger showroom for showcasing precision metal 3D printers and strengthen sales/service systems, thereby striving to expand market share in Europe.
- ✓ Sodick Electromechanical (Shanghai) Co., Ltd. (China) : Relocation to new company building
⇒Reinforce sales systems in the Chinese market where the number of products sold is expected to grow.

R&D base

- ✓ Head Office in Yokohama (Japan) : Construction of new R&D building
⇒Facilitate precision metal 3D printer-related R&D, development of new element technologies such as new electrical discharge power units and new-generation CNCs and that of next-generation technologies.

Other

- ✓ Strengthen investment in human resources to increase personnel, develop human resources, improve work environment, etc. aimed at securing highly competent employees.
